

NAN YANG

The Pennsylvania State University
501 Vairo Blvd Apt 1833C
State College, PA 16803

Mobile: 814-880-7389
E-mail: nxy914@psu.edu

PERSONAL STATEMENT

Professionalism, to me, means confidence, knowing what I am supposed to do, and trying my best to accomplish it. I love teaching, and I love sharing my knowledge with other people.

EDUCATION

Master of Arts in Teaching English as a Second Language	September, 2012-May, 2014(Expected)
The Pennsylvania State University (PSU)	GPA: 3.8/4.0

Bachelor of Arts in Teaching Chinese as a Foreign Language	September, 2008-June, 2012
Hebei University of Technology (HeBUT)	GPA: 3.42/4.0

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Practicum Teaching in ESL Oral English Class	January, 2014-Present
Teaching American Oral English to first-year international PhD students who are going to be TAs.

Team Teaching in ESL Composition Class	November, 2012
Team Teaching in an ESL Composition Class that consists of first year undergraduate international students.

Private English Writing Tutor	October, 2012-December, 2012
Provide assistance to improve tutee's Academic writing ability in general.

Teaching Assistance in New Oriental Educational Institution	October, 2011-Juanary, 2012
Working as teaching assistance in GRE and TOEFL courses to help improve learners' (most of college age) four language skills in order to achieve good performance in GRE and TOEFL.

Teaching Grammar in Laiyuan No.1 High School	July, 2011-August, 2011
Teaching an intensive grammar class in a public school helping students get ready for their College Entrance Examination.

Private Chinese Tutor	September, 2010-December, 2010
Tutoring a French student Chinese from the beginning level. I tutored him for more than two months, and his Chinese was improved dramatically that he could write simple passages in Chinese Pinyin.	