
JUNCHAO WANG

973-454-2161
junchao.wang@rutgers.edu

106 N 5TH ST.,
HARRISON, NJ
07029, U.S.

Education

Rutgers Business School, Newark, NJ, — Master of Quantitative Finance, 2013-Present

Wuhan University, Wuhan, China — Bachelor of Science in Physics, 2009-2013

Internship Experience

Internship, Young Talent Program, Citibank(China) Co., Beijing, China — Sept. 2012

Successfully interviewed and was selected from over 300 students to participate in this program. Received 10 introductory lectures on finance, operation, industry, software. Offered customer service and understood forms of banking. Attempted to utilize financial knowledge to provide tailored asset management advice.

Teaching Assistant, Wuhan New Oriental School, Wuhan, China — Feb. 2012 - June 2012

Assisted students in overcoming obstacles in language tests (TOEFL, etc.) and evaluated their progress especially in reading section, introduced some methods to assist students to read faster in English.

Research Experience

Participant, Group Research for KMV Model, Rutgers Business School, Newark, NJ — Dec., 2013

Learned the principle and the structural approach of Moody's KMV Model, did some estimation of Expected default frequency for several companies in different industries for empirical study. (Data Analysis by Excel (Solver) and Plots, Solving Partial Differential Equations by Matlab)

Extracurricular Activities

Leader, Education Outreach Mission, Shaoyang, China — July 2010

Investigated the condition of local children with migrant worker parents, provided educational assistance to an elementary school on the subject of English, maintained correspondence with students to offer continuous support.

Skills

Native in Mandarin and Fluent in English

Proficient in Word, Excel, PowerPoint

Programming Skills: C++, R, MATLAB
