Profile

"My Chinese name is Xin song. I majored in New Media and Communication back in college. I started drawing when I was young and my favorite part was sketching; for particular this reason, I started teaching children how to draw after finishing high school. This job was very attracted to me, however, I had to give up this job for college. In college, I had a few part time jobs, like model, showgirl, teacher, designer and etc. "
